Power Leveling is a game concept in which a character experiences rapid progression to the next level. Power Leveling in HR demands you benchmark your current HR level, access new resources, unlock new abilities, and boost your skills.

As Human Resource Professionals we are constantly called upon to be at our best, to keep up to date with new laws and regulations, to be knowledgeable about all areas of our company, and to always perform at optimum levels. In other words, we have to Power Level every day!

What level have you achieved and where do you want to take your career?
